Georgia Dight, Lawyer

Georgia is a lawyer across our family law, commercial law and litigation practice areas and was admitted to the legal profession in early 2016.

Georgia graduated with a dual Bachelor of Laws and Bachelor of Creative Industries (Journalism, Media and Communications) from Queensland University of Technology in 2015. Prior to her admission, Georgia developed a passion for family law working as a Paralegal for a specialist family law firm while completing her study.

Georgia retains a keen interest in family law and appreciates the difficulties faced by clients as a result of separation, and is dedicated to assisting clients navigate such a challenging time in their lives. Georgia is well aware of the emotional and financial burden placed upon clients during those times and is compassionate and diligent in achieving outcomes which facilitate their moving forward with confidence and direction.

Georgia currently provides vital assistance in the day to day management of files across the practice areas of family law, commercial law and litigation and ensures that clients are kept fully informed about the progress of their case at all times. Georgia places particular emphasis on the importance of building good rapport, listening to our clients and ensuring that they are involved in the process each step of the way.
