And in his spare time...

Steven enjoys cycling, theatre, movies and travelling whenever possible.

Steven is an Accredited Business Law Specialist with an interest in estate planning and administration of estates.

Steven works mostly for small businesses and high net worth individuals.

Steven advises on and structures businesses (including franchising), succession planning and asset protection, and property transactions (both residential and commercial). He also has substantial experience in wills and probate (including estate planning and estate administration) and in estate litigation.

He has advised unincorporated associations, educational organisations, academics and private scientific entities on commercial, leasing and administrative law issues.

Steven believes strongly in teamwork and has a friendly, practical and down-to-earth approach.

Recent highlights include:

- Successfully acting for a franchisor company for many years
- Acting for a high net worth individual in litigation that reached the High Court of Australia
- Successfully acting for an academic in a dispute with one of the nation's largest universities.
- Undertaking complex estate planning for an individual with assets exceeding tens of millions of dollars.
- Successfully settling a family provisions claim made by a family after an estate was left to a de-facto partner of the deceased.
- Successfully making an application to the Supreme Court of NSW for a trustee for sale.
- Administration of several Estates, as Executor, including an Estate with assets in excess of $20,000,000 for a period of 13 years while the principal beneficiaries were not old enough to inherit under the Will.
